Re: Freedom of Information Act Request

Dear Mr. Purvis:

This Freedom of Information Act request seeks production of:

- All public records including, but not limited to, all communications of any kind, type or form, such as written, digital, electronic (email), facsimile, audio, audio-visual, and internet (including via Skype, LinkedIn, Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, WhatsApp, Messenger, WeChat, Tumblr, QQ, and other approved social media services used by the agency), that have been sent, dispatched and otherwise transmitted from, and/or exchanged by, any one or more the offices of the U.S. Department of Interior (“DOI”), Office of the Solicitor (“SOL”), by its officials, employees and/or representatives, from January 1, 2015 through March 19, 2020:
  - Regarding congressional legislation, including, but not limited to, S.3019 (the “Montana Water Rights Protection Act”),<sup>1</sup> to facilitate the potential conveyance (transfer) to the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes (“CSKT”), a federally

The System has evolved into the world’s most comprehensive system of lands devoted to wildlife conservation and management. [...] Today, the System, administered by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), has grown to 509 refuges in all 50 States, and waterfowl production areas in 10 States, totaling nearly 93 million acres. [...] H.R. 1420 establishes that the conservation of fish, wildlife, plants and their habitats is the mission of the National Wildlife Refuge System and sets forth the policy and procedures through which the System and individual refuges are to be managed in order to fulfill that mission for the long-term benefit of the American people. H.R. 1420 requires that public use of a refuge may be allowed only where the use is compatible with the mission of the System and purpose of the individual refuge, and sets forth a standard by which the Secretary shall determine whether such uses are compatible. It establishes as the policy of the United States that wildlife-dependent recreation, when it is compatible, is a legitimate and appropriate public use of the Refuge System, through which the American public can develop an appreciation for fish and wildlife. It establishes compatible wildlife-dependent recreational uses as the priority general public uses of the Refuge System. Finally, it also requires the Secretary to prepare a comprehensive conservation plan for each refuge and specifies the topics to be addressed and procedures for the adoption of such plans.”)

(“Under these circumstances, absent ‘clear’ [...] expression of congressional intent to control the entire response, neither the IRS’s own expectations nor its handling of the document can turn the entire agency-created record into a congressional document. Otherwise, documents that agencies create in response to congressional requests could become congressional documents even if Congress expressed no intent to keep them secret, for it can be said of most such materials that they would not have been created but for the congressional request, that the agency relies on them for no other purpose, and that they are kept in separate files, i.e., in the agency’s office of congressional affairs. Such a result would ‘exempt from FOIA’s purview a broad array of materials otherwise clearly categorizable as agency records, thereby undermining the spirit of broad disclosure that animates the Act.’”).
