

The Growing China Threat

Author's note: For years US leaders have pandered to Communist China, ignoring the growing danger from a powerful and hostile enemy. Suddenly our nation finds itself in the middle of a health crisis that started in China, and then we discovered that almost all of our medicines and other vital products are made and controlled by China. Now that the focus is on that relationship, we are also being shocked by how many American industries are actually owned or controlled by them. Well, there is actually much more to the story. In June, 2014, I released the following article to alert Americans of the dangers of dealing with the Red Chinese, specifically through an immigration program called EB-5. Perhaps now, in light of this new crisis more Americans will take greater note of my warnings. With these new developments, I am re-releasing the article.

Is the U.S. Being Colonized By Red China?

By Tom DeWeese | April 13, 2020

For the past few decades the Communist regime of China has been driving toward world supremacy, both economically and militarily. The regime's main target has been, and is, the United States of America. China's plan to grab power has been clever and unprecedented, seeking victory without firing a shot, reducing its targets to mere frogs in a boiling pot.

Pundits and politicians alike, when excusing their strategic dealings with China, are quick to remind their audiences that today's China is a "centuries old civilization" rich in tradition and ancient religious discipline. A Confucian civilization that is still upset over wrongdoings during the European colonization period.

Such a view is wrong. The China we are confronted with today is nothing like that pre-nineteenth century nation. Since the reign of Mao began in 1949, Communist China, much to the dismay, torture, and death of its own citizens, has been governed by tyrannical thugs, thirsty to expand their dictatorial regime and unrelenting in their hatred of Western Civilization and the United States...
